At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Promotion Committee there were present Vice Chairman A. Gartley, F. C. Smith and E. I. Spaiding, Secretary Wood and F. J. Lowrey

Secretary Wood read the following letter from the Commercial Club of Salt Lake City:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 1, 1905. Dear Sir: We beg leave to invite your attention to the movement inaugurated by the Commercial Club of this city looking to the diversion into western channels of a part of the tide of tourist travel now flowing from America to Europe.

A conservative estimate made by reliable authorities, places the amount of money expended in foreign countries during the season of 1904-5 by American sightseers at $150,000,000.

This great sum was paid in large part by men and women in search of health, pleasure and recreation, who, though native to the United States, were in comparative ignorance of the scenic, climatic and industrial advantages of that portion of our country lying west of the Mississippi river.

It will, we think, be readily admitted that any material part of the amount named above, if spent in western communities, would not only make for their great financial betterment, and upbuilding, but would most desirably extend and increase the general knowledge of what this important section of the nation has to offer to the seekers of health, amusement, recreation or investment, who now crowd foreign capitals and pleasure resorts.

As conditions now exist many of our people are heard raving over the beauty of the Trossachs, the glory of the of the Columbia River.

In an effort to rectify the conditions of which complaint is here made the interest in this subject among the business men of the western part of the United States and of the Republic of Mexico.

The particular object of this communication is to solicit the aid of your papers in making the movement a success. It is earnestly hoped that, in view of the great interests involved Japanese and Chinese residents in the and the far-reaching character of the proposed exploitation of western resources and attractions, you will find it consistent with the policy of your paper to lend us your help.

MARVELOUS STORY TOLD IN DRAMATIC ART BY COMPETENT

"Quo Vadis" was again presented in a most satisfactory manner at the Orpheum, last night. The same excellence of staging and costuming that created such favorable comment on the opening night was in evidence again, while the experience gained in the management of some of the extremely elaborate scenery on the first night, was evidenced by the somewhat smoother handling of the stage devices tast

The play is a dramatization of Scienkawicz' great novel which deals Catheart objected to Hocking's tes-kimony being read alone. He said it admission to other states and territor-and one may say, the accepted view
